

Molded Bread Resolved An Apostle of the Green Scapular Gives Testimony

Our Apostolate received an email from a woman who lives in Australia. She sent an email to our Apostolate in late November 2016 regarding her bread molding. She had placed a piece of bread on her Altar for Pentecost and it molded. She wanted to find out what had caused her bread to mold by asking if Anna Marie could discern the issue. She explained that she and her husband were good practicing Catholics, blessing their food during cooking it, etc. She really wanted to know what she should do to resolve the issue, not wanting her bread to mold again on Christmas.

Our Apostolate printed her email and Anna Marie did ask Jesus to help her by revealing why the bread molded, what was the nature of the spiritual issue in her home so this Australian woman could resolve it. When Anna Marie asked Jesus how could she help her, the Lord said the following: “Tell them to look for an old coat. They need to get rid of it. It belongs to another.”

Although Anna Marie was concerned that the Lord indicated the problem stemmed from “an old coat” and wondering why anyone in Australia needed a coat living in a hot environment like Australia, she made sure that the Australian woman received the message anyway. We sent the Catholic woman the email and we received the following response:

“Blessings in the United Hearts of Jesus and Mary, from the bottom of my heart I thank you and Anna Marie for this answer! First it surprised me a bit and I did not know where we could have an old coat, but then I prayed and as if someone would lead my steps to our Guestroom, and staying in there I remembered immediately that 5 years ago—when we visited our Daughter in Canada (we live in Australia) I bought a second hand coat for Autumn and brought it home. I wore it as long as we was in Canada, but in Australia I never wore it, and thinking of your email I never knew who this coat belonged to before. So I took it out right away and it is packed now in our garage to be taken away on the weekend! I will use your advise for the bread for Christmas! Thank you too from my Heart that Jesus and His Holy Mother love us, my husband needed to know that... God knows my heart, honestly I have not enough words to thank you! May Anna Marie and all of you be blessed abundantly, and I wish you a very Holy and Blessed Advent time and Christmas! My heart and thoughts and prayers are always with you! God bless you, Warm Wishes.”

When our Apostolate received this email, we were very happy for this family in Australia. Jesus, not Anna Marie, knew what the issue was in her home and through her prayers and faith in the Lord, Jesus revealed it. We were given permission from the Catholic woman in Australia to share her testimonial so that others might also have hope and trust in Jesus to help reveal why their bread is molding. We continue to invite others to send their emails to our Apostolate for Anna Marie to discern. While we are all extremely busy, she wants every home to be freed from all spiritual warfare. Please keep us in your prayers and especially Anna Marie so that she can continue to do the will of the Lord.

We are all praying that Jesus will again come to bless our bread and water this Easter. For now, we ask everyone to place their piece of bread in a plastic zip lock bag (make sure it is sealed tightly). Jesus asked for only one piece of bread to be sealed in an airtight bag. Also, Jesus wants us to place a bottled of water, such as a sealed plastic bottle of water on our Home Altar. He knows who you are, so have no concern if you hide your bread and water behind a picture or statue.
